ABOUT ME

Hello, I'm Sérgio Oliveira, a technology enthusiast from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, at the beginning of my career as a Software Developer. Although I'm just taking my first steps in this field, my passion for learning and overcoming challenges is what drives me every day. Recently, I started exploring the world of web development, focusing on JavaScript, React.js, and Node.js. I am constantly seeking new knowledge and love diving into projects that push me out of my comfort zone, as I believe it's through challenges that we truly grow and become better professionals.

EXPERIENCES

Software Developer March/2024 - PRESENT

During my personal development in the technology field, I have completed a series of projects focused on expanding my knowledge and applying best practices in software development.

These projects demonstrate my ability to overcome challenges and problems, especially learning new technologies and delivering functional solutions. All of them are available in my portfolio, which reflects my continuous progress in React, JavaScript, TypeScript, and Node.
